My take

This Audax 47 is not a production boat: she was designed and built by her owner, a yacht designer and sailor. She was registered in 2011 and launched in 2012. She is 15.47 m overall with a registered length of 14.50 m, cutter-rigged, with a teak deck and the deckhouse with round portholes you can see in the photos.

She has a Volvo Penta D3 110 hp diesel with about 1,300 hours, according to the owner. The maintenance history and the condition of the sails and electronics are requested from the owner and checked against the documentation before you reserve.

She is under the Polish flag and is in Castellón. With a Spanish licence, the PER with sailing endorsement or a higher licence is enough, as the registered length is 14.50 m. The price is €279,000, with VAT paid according to the owner.

The photos are the owner's. I don't have interior photos yet: if you're interested, ask me and I'll send you whatever there is.
