How I see it

A 2015 Swift Trawler 34, Beneteau's flybridge trawler. It has two helm stations, the lower one next to the saloon and the flybridge helm with bimini, and an aft cockpit that closes with canvas.

It has a single engine, a Cummins QSB 6.7 425 hp inboard diesel, with about 2,800 hours according to the owner. The hours are confirmed with the photo of the hour meter and the papers, and I ask the owner for the maintenance history so it can be checked before reserving.

Inside, according to the builder, there is the owner's cabin forward with a double bed, a guest cabin with bunks, a bathroom with a separate shower and a saloon with a convertible sofa and galley. The photos show the warm woodwork throughout, the radar and the TV in the cabin.

It is in Cambrils (Costa Daurada, Tarragona), with a rented berth that is not part of the sale. At 10.98 m according to the builder, you need the Spanish PER licence or higher; the registered length is confirmed with the papers. The price is €179,990. It is a private sale, so the buyer normally pays the transfer tax (ITP) of their region; the boat's VAT status is confirmed with the papers.

Before reserving, I would do a sea trial and an independent survey.
